SAMUEL² LOVELAND (Thomas¹) d in Glas., Conn., Sept. 27, 1772, in the 95th year of his age. From Prof. Hoadley, State Librarian at Hartford, Conn., who has a copy of the First Cong. Ch. Rec. of that place: "Samuel Loveman m Lydia Barnard, Oct. 4, 1705." Glas. Town Records: "Samuel Loveland began to beat the drum the first Sabbath in the month, which is the 6th of April, 1701" (supposed for the purpose of calling the people to meeting). Colonial Records, 1706—1716: "At a meeting of the Governor and Council in Hartford, May 22, 1712: Resolved, that an order be given the Treasurer to pay Samuel Loveman of Glas., a soldier in Col. Whitney's Reg. in the late expedition against Canada, £3, 18s." Deed Records: "Joseph Dickinson to Samuel Loveland (March 23, 1731), four acres of land with mansion house thereon standing.—Samuel Loveland to his son, Charles Loveland (March 31, 1731).—Samuel Loveland to Samuel Loveland, Jr. (Nov. 28, 1737), forty acres of land—Samuel Loveland to John Loveland, for the love and affection I bear towards him, that he may be accommodated with land to work upon.—Samuel Loveland to his daughter Beriah, wife of David Dickinson (Dec. 22, 1756)." Samuel Loveland removed from this part of Glastonbury to that part which later became the northern part of the town of Marlborough. Marlborough was incorporated as a parish out of portions of Hebron, Glas. and Colchester. The first house in this section was built by him in 1747. Fourteen subscribers "hereto, inhabitants in Colchester, Hebron and Glastonbury" petitioned (May 15, 1736) the General Assembly for a separate place of worship:

" We would humbly show to your Honors our Difficult Circumstances, our living so far from any place of the publick worship of God, some living seven, some eight miles and several of us have so weakly wives that are not able to go to any place of publick worship." They asked the privilege of "hiring an orthodox minister to preach the word to and amongst us." Samuel Loveland was one of these petitioners, and Charles Loveland and Nathan Dunham signed a similar petition in 1737. On the first petition the Assembly granted the petitioners liberty to employ a minister, but did not release them from taxes for the support of the ministry in the ecclesiastical societies to which they respectively belonged.

History of Hartford County. From Hartford Probate Records:

"Will of Samuel Loveland, approved Dec. 9, 1772. John Loveland, Executor. Gives all his movable estate to his wife Lydia, and the land lying on the east side of the High Way. Gives his son Charles five shillings; his son John five shillings; his daughter Abigail ten Pounds; his grand-daughter, Abigail Porter, six Pounds; his daughter Beriah ten shillings. Will dated 10 Jan'y, 1765." Samuel Loveland at various times received his quota of the public lands from the town. The births and deaths of his children are found in the Middletown, Conn., Records. Middletown was formerly a part of Glastonbury.

He removed to Hartford, Conn., previous to the Rev. War, as is shown by deed record. His son Charles⁴ m in M., 1776, and was Corporal in Capt. Warner's company in the Rev. War. He enlisted for the war, April 25, 1777, from Hartford. He had one son, Charles⁵, b in Hartford. From William A. Loveland, of Sioux City, Iowa, we have: "My grandfather's name was Charles Loveland. He was b in Hartford and was the only son of his father; From Hartford he moved to Halifax, Nova Scotia. He was married three times, the second time to my grandmother, Maria Raynard, in 1814." They had five children, only one, Charles Daniel, the father of William A., married. Charles³ Loveland probably had one other son named Samuel⁴, who moved to Wooster, Mass. From William H. Loveland, of Elizabeth, N.J., we have: "My Father Samuel Barnard⁵ Loveland, was b in Wooster, Mass., Dec. 15, 1799." We have no positive proof that Samuel Loveland was the name of Samuel B.'s father, but we are quite sure Samuel B. was Charles³ Loveland's grandson. Children born in Hartford:

- i. Charles⁴, m in Middletown in 1776.
- ii. Samuel (supposed name).

Charles Loveland served in the Rev. War.— See Conn. Roster, p. 176. He had only one son, Charles⁵, who moved to Halifax, where he was three times married. The name of his first wife unknown. By her he had: James⁶, died unmarried, lost at sea, and Sarah, married William Knock, or Nock, of Halifax. They moved to Louisville, Ky. He married 2d Maria Raynard, 1814. She died in Halifax, 1821. Had two children: Charles Daniel⁶, born Nov. 15, 1815 (married Sarah A. Hunt. He graduated at a medical college in Philadelphia, Pa., practiced in Louisville, Ky., Pittsfield and Havana, Ill. At this latter place he married. His only living child, William A.⁶, has a family at Sioux City), and William⁶, lost at sea in his fifteenth year. He married 3rd _____ Freeman, and had Maria⁶ who married Judge Charles W. Clark, of Kansas City, Mo.

Samuel Loveland moved to Wooster, where he married and had a family We have been unable to identify but one son, Samuel Barnard⁵, born in Wooster, Dec. 15, 1799, married there about 1820, Susan Dalerymple, who died at Wooster, Jan'y, 1822. He married 2d in N.Y. City, Jan'y 5, 1826, Margaret Sidmon, born in Rockland Co., N.Y., July 4, 1798, died in N.Y. City, June 12, 1863. He died there June 16, 1883. Six children: Lyman⁶, born in Wooster; Susan, born in Wooster, Jan'y 10, 1822, married Elias Crandell; Laura P. H., born in N.Y. City, Jan'y 28, 1827, married there Nov., 1843, Jeremiah Keyser, born there Nov. 14, 1831 – family; William Henry, born in N.Y. J.; Samuel Hasting, born Philadelphia, Pa., March 29, 1831, died 1850, lost at sea, and Charles Blanchard, born in N. Y. City, Jan'y 6, 1835 married there April 20, 1861, Sarah Julia Bergen, born Dec. 2, 1841 — family in Elizabeth.

SAMUEL³ LOVELAND, JR. (Samuel², Thomas¹), was b Middletown, formerly a part of Glas., Conn., about 1709. He was recorded Freeman in 1730. Deed Book 4, p. 314: "Samuel Loveland to Samuel Loveland, Jr., forty acres, Nov. 23, 1735." Lyme, Conn., Records give: "Samuel³ Loveland, Jr., m Rebecca Rowland, March 6, 1735, and had Samuel, b Dec. 12, 1735." In New Jersey Roster: "Samuel and Charles Loveland in the Rev. War, from Burlington Co." Glas. Deed Book: "Charles Loveland, Sen., of Little Egg Harbor, N. J., executor of the last will and testament of Samuel Loveland, deceased, to Daniel Ward, one piece of forty acres; dated Nov. 1, 1797." This deed carries the New Jersey Lovelands back to Glas. . Mrs. Thomas F. Loveland, New Gretna (formerly Egg Harbor), N.J., writes: "Charles and Samuel Loveland came from Conn. and settled here." From the above we conclude that Samuel³

Loveland⁴ left Lyme for Egg Harbor after the birth of Samuel and had Charles. These two were in the Rev. War. The New Jersey Lovelands claim descent from these two brothers.
